

My Happy Marriage plan

Teachings of Jesus Christ

The teachings of the gospel can be summed up in love "Love the lord with all your might, heart, soul and strength and love your neighbor as yourself". We will adhere to this teaching, we will avoid contention and listen with real intent. We will love purely despite any flaws in our family (myself included). We can do this by going for fresh air anytime we have an argument then come talk about it when we are calm. The fresh air can help keep us fresh.

Faith

As we constantly choose faith over fear, our family will live happier lives, our future will be filled with hope. When we (me and my spouse) make decisions we will instead of comparing ourselves with others, we will set standards based on our family's strengths and the lord's expectations. We will not be afraid to try good new things.

Prayer

Prayer is a way to communicate with the lord. We will pray as a family every morning and evening. We will also have our individual prayers. Then we will fast and pray as a family every fast Sunday.

Repentance

Repentance gives us another chance. We will repent quickly when we make mistakes and support each other through the process. We will also protect each other from repeating the same mistake.

Forgiveness

Forgiveness helps us grow. We will make the parable of the unforgiving servant an example. We will remind each other to forgive quickly. We will also reward efforts towards forgiveness (buying ice cream to make us feel better about our good decision).

Respect

If we truly love each other, respect for each other naturally comes. We can respect each other more by focusing on our companions' strengths. By regarding their righteous judgement. By allowing them to speak their minds in conversations whether they are making their points or rambling).

Love

If we love our spouse, they will know. The best way to do this is by actions. Take them out on dates. Wash their feet (render service) or help them with what they are doing. Listen to them. Activities like this will deepen our love for each other.

Compassion

Compassion requires that we show concern for each other's situation. Here we should be able to understand each other. If they made a gullible decision, understand that they are human. Be compassionate by being helpful.

Work

Being industrious is an admirable thing. As we work together to put food on the table or nurture our children our admiration and understanding of each other deepens. We can set goals to work on our weaknesses. This helps us become better companions to each other.

Wholesome Recreational Activities

We can plan wholesome recreational activities. Scripture battles where we quote the scriptures as a family and see who lasts the longest. We can play ping-pong or do karaoke after a hard day's work to relax and strengthen bonds. We can also play football -parents versus kids and husband versus wife, so we can learn a little about life(winning and losing).
